WARNING WARNING WARNI

Parental Warning-Page 22

Parents read this article before your children.

Early Saturday morning, Mike's younger brother, Steve, was loading his truck to go to work when three men, driving by, suddenly stopped, jumped out of their SUV, and beat him to death. They didn't steal anything except a fake wallet he kept on him. He lived in Memphis, in a quiet, humble neighborhood, and never caused offense. What kind of people roam quiet neighborhoods at 6AM, looking to kill someone? Murder and assault is rampant—happening everywhere.

My instinct is to warn you to grab your kids and run for the hills, because judgment is coming, and it will fall on the just as well as the unjust. Then I remembered Ephesians 6, where God admonishes us, "...that ye may be able to withstand in the EVIL day." It doesn't promise safety, health, or happiness. Rather, we are admonished is to keep trusting that God is good in the midst of it all. God tells us to put on the whole armor of God: Truth, righteousness, gospel of peace, faith, salvation, and Word of God. You will need it all. Then in verses 18-20 it says, "Praying always with all prayer and supplication in the Spirit, and watching thereunto with all perseverance and supplication for all saints, And for me, [Paul says of himself, and I say about us] that utterance may be given unto me, that I may open my mouth boldly, to make known the mystery of the gospel, For which I am an ambassador in bonds: that therein I may speak boldly, as I ought to speak."

Pray for us. We are ambassadors, though not yet in bonds. We need skilled laborers to help us send the gospel to the whole world. We run against time, extreme evil, and the need of faithful helpers.

Many Sins FORGIVEN

by Michael Pearl

For the past six years I have been working on a book that is now finished and in the final stages of preparation to be published. Artwork is currently being done. Those who have read the manuscript all say this will be the most impactful thing I have ever written. This is one illustration from the book.

In Luke 7:36–38 we read, “And one of the Pharisees desired him that he would eat with him. And he went into the Pharisee’s house, and sat down to meat. And, behold, a woman in the city, which was a sinner, when she knew that Jesus sat at meat in the Pharisee’s house, brought an alabaster box of ointment, And stood at his feet behind him weeping, and began to wash his feet with tears, and did wipe them with the hairs of her head, and kissed his feet, and anointed them with the ointment.”

Jesus had been ministering publicly for some time now, and his reputation preceded him. He had healed every kind of disease, raised the dead, and preached peace and forgiveness to everyone who believed. Many were calling him Messiah, the promised seed who would bring salvation to Israel.

There was a loose woman in town, known for her immorality, who lived in shame and guilt. The righteous treated her as trash, and the hypocrites availed themselves of her services at a cheap price. She had no doubt heard the stories of Jesus, listened to some of his sermons, and viewed his miracles. She came to believe that he was indeed God's gift to mankind, and that he had the power to forgive sins. We can imagine that she was reluctant to approach him in her shame, but when she heard he was having lunch in the Pharisee's house, she found herself moving in that direction. She thought to bring a gift to Jesus, the only pure thing she had: a small box of aromatic ointment. She knew she was not fit company for decent folk, much less the Christ of God, but she had an irresistible urge to go to him.

When she got there, she looked in through the door and saw the place crowded with the upper crust of society and Jesus seated in a place of prominence. Driven by guilt, shame, and desperate hope, she pushed past the servants and rushed up to where Jesus sat. Overcome with the intensity of it, she wept uncontrollably. Not having the confidence to look him in the face, she flung herself to the floor. In so doing, her tears spilled onto his dusty feet, leaving muddy smears. Being unworthy to even soil his feet, she thought to wipe them clean. Having nothing available, she unbound her hair and began to wipe away the stains, kissing his feet as she did so. Remembering the perfumed ointment, she took it out and poured the contents upon his feet, rubbing it in with her hair.

As she continued, "the Pharisee which had bidden him saw it, he spake within himself, saying, This man, if he

She came to BELIEVE that HE was indeed

to mankind were a prophet, would have known who and what manner of woman this is that toucheth him: for she is a sinner" (v 39). He assumed that, since Jesus allowed her to touch him in that fashion, he must not be a but this woman since the time I came in hath not ceased to kiss my feet. My head with oil thou didst not anoint: but this woman hath anointed my feet with ointment" (v 44–46).

Now looking down at the woman,

Wherefore I say unto thee, Her sins, which are many, are forgiven; for she loved much:

true prophet, for, in their thinking, a holy prophet would know such things and avoid contact with unworthy sinners.

The Pharisee had not spoken his concern, only thought it, so Jesus revealed just how much of a prophet he was by reading the mind of the Pharisee and addressing his thoughts. "And Jesus answering said unto him, Simon, I have somewhat to say unto thee. And he saith, Master, say on. There was a certain creditor which had two debtors: the one owed five hundred pence, and the other fifty. And when they had nothing to pay, he frankly forgave them both. Tell me therefore, which of them will love him most? Simon answered and said, I suppose that he, to whom he forgave most. And he said unto him, Thou hast rightly judged" (v 40–43).

"And he turned to the woman, and said unto Simon, Seest thou this woman? I entered into thine house, thou gavest me no water for my feet: but she hath washed my feet with tears, and wiped them with the hairs of her head. Thou gavest me no kiss:

while still speaking to Simon, Jesus said, "Wherefore I say unto thee, Her sins, which are many, are forgiven; for she loved much: but to whom little is forgiven, the same loveth little" (v 47). Then looking into the face of the weeping woman, Jesus said unto her, "Thy sins are forgiven" (v 48). She never dared ask for forgiveness. This was more than she could have dreamed. Her many sins were forgiven! At that moment she was cleaner than any Pharisee or guest in the room. She had no sins to her charge. She was fully accepted into fellowship with the Godhead.

"And he said to the woman, Thy faith hath saved thee; go in peace" (v 50). That statement sounds like something Jesus might say to a person just healed of a terrible disease. But the woman was not sick. She didn't bring faith to Jesus expecting a certain outcome. So when he speaks of her faith, he could not be using it in the popular sense of having faith that God would do something for her.

This is quite the revelation as to faith and forgiveness. He tells us why she was forgiven: “for she loved much.” This is the clearest case of salvation by faith. What was her faith? It was loving Jesus much. To love God is to have faith in him. Love and faith are inseparable. Consider the verse, “For in Jesus Christ neither circumcision availeth any thing, nor uncircumcision; but faith which worketh by love” (Galatians 5:6). Love produces faith. You have faith in what you love. Many people know they should love God, and choose to act as if they do, while loving the world much more (1 John 2:15).

“And they that sat at meat with him began to say within themselves, Who is this that forgiveth sins also?” (Luke 7:49). They had seen his healing; it was undeniable. But now he claims to have the power to forgive sins. “Who can forgive sins, but God alone?” (Luke 5:21).

Faith in Jesus Christ is not a cold, orthodox confession of sound doctrine. It is not a personal experience of turning from sin and “asking Jesus into your heart.” It is not church membership or baptism. It is not confession of sins. It is not the manifestation of supernatural gifts—and especially not imitation gifts. The weeping woman confessed nothing, and she was not baptized, but she was forgiven—entirely, completely forgiven.

Faith in Jesus is loving the very thought of him. It causes us to fall down in worship, bringing our worst and our best to lay at his feet. Faith is all of me for all of him.

And you can expect religious leaders, who are trusting to their orthodoxy, to stand off and wonder at the meaning of it all. ■

COMING SOON!

Michael Pearl's new book is coming soon!
It is in the final proofing stages.
Title and Cover to be released.

Faith does not generate or produce a reality; it is not a force; it is recognition of a reality as defined by another, in this case, God. Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, and Joseph were not trying to bring something to pass by their faith. Rather, their faith was generated by a reality that existed apart from what they believed about it.

Faith is more than we think; not just believing something prompted by the evidence, but substance and evidence.

Michael Pearl's new book is the story of faith throughout the Bible. This book has been over six years in the making and after a lifetime of study.

Rather than chapters, it is divided into sixty-five individual stories that can be read one at a time.

This will be unlike any book that you have ever read on the subject of faith.

It's Worth It

by Beth Determan

I monitor the Helmeet site on Facebook, so I read many stories from women who were sexually or physically abused in their youth. It is part of my history as well. I could have written, “I, too, am a victim of abuse,” but instead I want to say, “I am victorious over what is in my past.” If I could, I would wave a magic wand and bring healing to all who have gone through abuse, but the magic has to come from your choosing God’s healing for yourself. Your decision to stop the stinking thinking and embrace God’s cleansing healing will set you free.

If we let the sexual or physical abuse in our past cripple us, it can ruin our relationships. To acknowledge you were a victim is okay. But your abusers win when you continue to stay in that place and don’t seek God for healing that only he can give. Don’t push your husband away sexually; he is not the one who hurt you.

God is JUST, and I know that God will be my avenger. However, honestly, knowing that the people who hurt me are offered the same gift of mercy I received wasn't always easy, but I'm truly thankful that Jesus came to save us all.

God is comforting. God can change the heart and actions of the wretched, so I do not allow my past to dictate my future! God made me a new creature and I use the past to help others know we can be free from the chains of darkness that once bound us. I am a survivor because I let God SAVE ME. I do have PTSD, so I find different ways to enjoy intimacy with my husband that don't remind me of my past, because my relationship is something worth living for. My husband is worth this effort. ■

I SPY WITH MY LITTLE EYE

by Emma Tieman

My kids and I sat on our favorite picnic quilt and enjoyed our family breakfast together. The sun was warm on our faces, the breeze was cool in our hair, the garden was starting to sprout, and the birds were wishing us good morning. We ate our berries and pancakes and smiled because we were together, and together is our favorite place to be!

'I wish every morning could be just like this one,' I thought to myself.

As we finished our breakfast, my son knew he needed to clean up after himself and come back outside to help water the garden. It's his favorite thing to do! What boy doesn't love to squirt water in the dirt and find worms? Then I had an idea... why not do a lesson with the water hose? The kids would be engaged, the weather is beautiful, and it'd be fun!

I ran inside, grabbed some chalk, and started to draw letters on our fence. He was already getting excited and repeatedly asking, "What are we doing!? Hey, I know that letter! Mommy, I want to see!"

I smiled knowing he was going to have a blast with my new "I Spy" game.

"Okay, Hud. Let's play 'I Spy' together! When you find the letter, I want you to squirt the water at it!"

He jumped up and down with glee. More messes he can make! Yippee!

"I spy with my little eye... a G!"

SQUIIIIIIRRRRTTT

With every letter he grew more and more excited, and before we knew it, all the letters had disappeared from the fence.

"Okay, Mommy! Now let's do shapes!"

I grinned knowing my idea had worked. He was having a blast! We went to a dry part of the fence, and I drew shapes everywhere. My youngest watched excitedly knowing she was about to get another water show. She kicked her feet and grabbed handfuls of dirt, laughing and excited to learn, too.

"I spy with my little eye... a DIAMOND!"

SQUIIIIIIRRRRTTT

We couldn't help but giggle every time he squirted the water hose. We found so much joy as we reviewed our lessons and made a big mess!

We ended up doing uppercase letters, lowercase letters, letter sounds, shapes, & numbers 1-20. My fence was soaked, and so were we!

Mamas, we are our babies' greatest teachers! They watch, listen, mimic, & trust us, so as they watch, show joy in learning! Incorporate fun games and things they love. Show them God's beautiful nature and talk about His wonderful creations! There is a lesson in everything, whether it's going on a nature walk and collecting something of every color, or painting a side of a leaf and imprinting it on paper for an art project.

My wise Aunt Debi Pearl once said to me, "What you do MATTERS," and those words have stayed with me. So now I pass it on to you, my mama friend. Have a breakfast picnic, play in the water, and keep laughing and learning together! ■

God is all Inclusive

by Adam Barber

In a society that seeks to be “inclusive,” it should come as welcome news that God has indeed included everyone. Unfortunately, it’s not “everyone goes to heaven.” Rather, it is that we are all sinners.

For all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God; (Romans 3:23)

There is not one single person who has ever lived, save Jesus himself, who is entirely without sin. That is generally understood, and few would argue that it is not true.

But there is another area of life that we sometimes dismissively think is the problem of other people: addiction.

According to a recent survey conducted by Pew Research Center, almost half of all families in America have a relative or close friend who is addicted to alcohol or drugs. If you take into account that pornography, shopping, and food can be addictions as well, the number would likely be close to 100%.

Addiction is a universal problem—a SIN problem—and no family, denomination, or people group is immune.

(Perhaps you are one of the few who do not have a family member that has been, or is currently, addicted to drugs, alcohol, or pornography. If so, then praise God. But keep reading, because we need you too.)

For the last five years, No Greater Joy's Light Bearers have been sending free copies of Good and Evil to inmates across North America. As of today, over 100,000 books have been placed into the hands of men and women, and the eternal destinies of many of them and their families have been changed.

According to NIAAA (the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism), 10% of the population in the US has had a substance abuse disorder in their lives; that is 33,600,161 men, women, brothers, sisters, husbands, wives, pastors, friends, and neighbors.

Many of those in addiction have "tried church" and found it wanting. Because of past experiences, resentments, and hurts, they are not open to traditional evangelism; some are even hostile toward what they need, which is the same thing that everyone needs: the gospel of Jesus Christ. Once again, God is inclusive. He has one cure to administer to all who will take it.

Giving those in treatment centers, hospitals, and detox units a copy of Good and Evil is not just giving them a comic book to pass the time. It is giving them the gospel, presented in a way that they have never seen before. And it continues to work for thousands of people.

We have a unique opportunity to reach men and women who are seeking recovery from alcohol

God did for me

for myself

He made me free and drugs. YOU have a unique opportunity.

You can visit our website <https://thepicturebible.com/#send> to send a copy to an inmate or treatment center resident, or email Adam at: adam@nogreaterjoy.org.

There are many people who will tell you that the gospel will not break the chains of addiction. I know for a fact that is not true, because it did for me. God did for me what I could never do for myself; he made me free.

But there are many more out there who still need to be reached. Let's go and get them.

Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new. (2 Corinthians 5:17) ■

Open Doors

by Amber Gullickson

One of the most satisfying experiences in life is being able to minister to others. This looks different for everyone, and it will change as your life seasons change.

I recently had the privilege to become part of a team that ministers to the local recovery men and women, and that has evolved into being able to take God's Word to the female inmates in our local county jail on Mondays with one of the recovery facilitators, Mrs. Sarah.

Growing up in a missionary/pastor's home, my parents and the whole family had many varying ministries throughout the years. I was a part of many of those, but when Mrs. Sarah asked if I would be interested in going along with her to the jail, I was intrigued, but beyond nervous! This felt way out of my comfort zone, since I usually had a parent or sibling along when ministering opportunities came up. But I said yes.

I will never forget that first Monday, walking into the jail's meeting room. Mrs. Sarah and I were getting set up, when the door opened and there stood a line of women all dressed in orange. The reality of "I'm in jail" hit. It was not the fact that we pulled into the jail and you could see the barbed-wire yard and the armed deputies, or even having to get buzzed in. It was seeing the girls lined up with messy hair, jail shoes, and all that orange. I will be honest: I have never given much thought to people in jail. But as I sat there elbow to elbow with the girls as they listened to what Mrs. Sarah was sharing, I began to realize they may be the people we tend to forget about, but they are the ones that God longs and yearns to have. And what an honor and privilege to have a small part in being able to minister to these women!

Recently, the girls have talked about the daily devotions they have started up and how they get together and open God's Word and pray for one another and their families. When they are struggling throughout the week, they are able to find comfort in God's words. That is what makes it all worthwhile. Many of them may never understand and believe the gospel, but the ones that do make those hours of time worth every second.

I still attend the recovery meetings, listening to the men and women as they talk about their addictions and where their lives were; but then they begin to give honor and glory to God, that through Christ their lives have completely turned around. I have come to think of them as some of the strongest people I know. They have hit bottom and made it because of Christ. If that doesn't make you rejoice and jump up giving glory to God, I don't think anything can.

It is amazing to watch as God opens doors. Many times I have prayed and waited for God to "open a door", without realizing he has already opened one; he was simply waiting for me to walk through it. Your ministry may not be in recovery or jail ministries, but I urge you to find someone you are able to minister to and watch God work in those lives, and then rejoice with them as their lives are drastically changed through Christ. There is nothing like it.■

W SIMPLE ISDOM

BY DEBI PEARL

Over the course of my long life, I have watched and noticed that those who are easily offended do not do well in life—emotionally, physically, or spiritually. Sometimes the wear and tear on the body and mind can be quite terrible.

We all need to remember this. Usually, the wear is here-a-little and there-a-little, but all those here and there hurt feelings add up to some big issues. Suddenly one day you realize your whole is not so whole anymore, and there is no going back. My mama's favorite saying was, "Be like a duck and let the water just run off." Our first reaction might be offense, but then we have an opportunity to make a choice to continue, or to just let it go. Simple wisdom says, let it go. ■

!!! PARENTS - This may be a topic you do not want your children reading !!!

by Michael Pearl

Some Christian parents are growing weary of trying to homeschool all their children. A few have relented and sent their kids to public school. I have followed some of them ten years later when the kids have graduated and have become infidels, some practicing sodomy. Parents have told me, "But ours is not a big city school. These are local kids and teachers who share our community values."

Well, we live in one of the poorest and least-populated counties in Tennessee. There are churches everywhere. I recently spoke with a 17-year-old fellow who had been homeschooled all his life but was suddenly forced into the public school system for his eleventh grade. He has become emotionally distraught at what he is seeing.

He was able to endure the guys coming onto him, describing how they were going to sodomize him, but when one of them tried to fondle his privates, he inflicted bodily harm on the "they." He was placed in detention, but that was not a bother.

My young friend had daily endured the conversations of their recent exploits, couples expressing publicly what they had done the previous day. He sat by in disapproval as they viewed pornography in class while the teacher was out. But when they began their lustful conversation concerning infants and small children, he couldn't take it anymore. Later, when a teacher saw him sitting alone, distraught, and asked him what was wrong, he told her what he was seeing and hearing. She began to beam with pleasure and said, "That is so refreshing to find a student in this school who doesn't approve of that behavior."

There were far more shocking and disgusting things said by the perverted children that I cannot even share in this public forum. Suffice it to say any parent who sends his children to public school is a _____, and then some.

God did not allow the children of Israel to take the Promised Land until "the iniquity of the Amorites" was "full" (Genesis 15:16). When they morally deteriorated to the place of reprobation, then God sent Israel in with a command to kill the men, women, children, and even the animals, because they, too, were trained in irredeemable, sexual deviancy (Deut. 20:14-18).

The iniquity of the United States is full—or near full. Our judgment is coming. There is no place for a Christian to take up arms against sin and sodomy. God says, "Dearly beloved, avenge not yourselves, but rather give place unto wrath: for it is written, Vengeance is mine; I will repay, saith the Lord" (Rom. 12:19).

"Finally, my brethren, be strong in the Lord, and in the power of his might. Put on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil. For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places. Wherefore take unto you the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand. Stand therefore, having your loins girt about with truth, and having on the breastplate of righteousness; And your feet shod with the preparation of the gospel of peace; Above all, taking the shield of faith, wherewith ye shall be able to quench all the fiery darts of the wicked. And take the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God: Praying always with all prayer and supplication in the Spirit, and watching thereunto with all perseverance and supplication for all saints;" Ephesians 6:10-18 ■

Rebekah's Diary |

Rebekah Pearl, oldest daughter of Michael and Debi Pearl, tells the awesome story of God's guidance and protection as she, a 22-year-old girl, all alone, where no white person had ever been, adapted to a primitive culture.

Item #7810-10 $7.95

Create a Better Brain through Neuroplasticity |

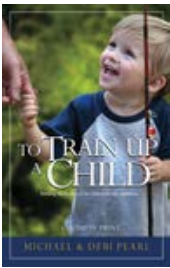

Intriguing and Entirely Entertaining: You will not lay this book down. Debi explains how and why some simple habits can vastly improve the brain, thus raise a child's intellect both mentally and emotionally.

Item #2110-10 $16.95

Child Training

To Train Up A Child |

With humor and real-life examples this book shows you how to train your children before the need to discipline arises. Be done with corrective discipline; make them allies rather than adversaries. The stress will be gone and your obedient children will praise you and bring joy and peace into your home.

Bible Topics

with Michael Pearl

The Gap Fact |

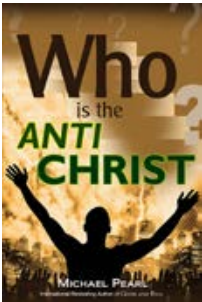

The Bible clearly declares that the earth existed before the 6-day Creation. To not believe in a gap between Genesis 1:1 and 1:3 is not only contrary to clear Scripture.

Item #3530-10 $12.95

Who Is The Antichrist |

The biblical facts concerning antichrist are far different from popular belief. This little book will point you in the right direction and launch your study of this critical subject.

Item #9540-10 $12.95

Understanding The Book of Hebrews |

If you look at your faith you will look in vain. If you look to him, knowing you have insufficient faith, he will receive you as you are, having less faith than a grain of finely ground pepper.

Item # 9240-10 $12.95

The Bible on Divorce and Remarriage |

In this thorough exegesis of all the Bible texts concerning divorce and remarriage, Michael Pearl answers these issues with the Word of God.

Item #2350-10 $9.95

The Prophecy of Magog & Israel | Ezekial 38-39

This little book reveals the identity of Magog and the invading forces. Is the U.S. in prophecy? Read the book to find out!

Item # 2940-10 $7.95

Repentance |

When the Bible warns a sinner to repent, what is the nature of repentance? Michael Pearl examines all 112 uses of "repent" in the KJV. Designed to put hearts at rest in Christ and correct error.

Item #8120-10 $4.50

All MP3 CDs are ~~$12.95~~ $6.95

All CDs are ~~$6.95~~ $4.95

MP3 CDs are most commonly played on computers. You can also copy the MP3 audio files directly from the disc to your computer, add the audio to your music software's Library, then sync it to your iPod or other MP3-playing device.

Sowing & Reaping |

Better defined as a sermon than as teaching. It is a truly fun listen with entertaining stories and illustrations, designed to warn the believer that he will reap what he sows.

Item #8333-45 ~~$6.95~~ $4.95

If By Grace & God's Chosen People |

Two messages on one CD: Salvation is completely by grace without the deeds of the law. Israel remains God's chosen people

Item #3605-55 ~~$12.95~~ $6.95

Righteousness |

Michael discusses righteousness and its necessity for salvation. The first message can be described as nothing but joyous. The second is almost scary when one sees how serious God is about blood. The last two mark the differences in saving and imputed righteousness. The whole series is thrilling, thorough and will make you weep when you realize just what God has done to redeem us.

Item #8135-55 ~~$12.95~~ $6.95

Prodigal Son |

A simple message inviting sinners to repent toward God and be fully accepted into his favor.

Item #7690-45 ~~$6.95~~ $4.95

Sinful Nature |

These messages answer some of the ridiculous teachings of an ancient heresy sometimes called "Calvinism." For too long, Reformed theology has robbed the church of the power of God.

Item #8330-55 ~~$12.95~~ $6.95

50 Sins |

Your sins are found in this list. Sin brings misery, even where we are unaware of it as the source of our troubled spirit. To allow the Holy Spirit to chase lifelong troublesome sin out into the light is purging in and of itself. Nine messages.

Item #3012-22 ~~$12.95~~ $6.95

DVDs

Marriage | Child Training | Teaching Teens
and many more subjects

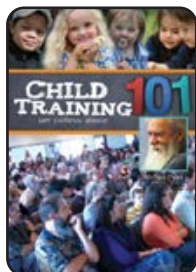

The Joy Of Training |

Michael and Debi Pearl tell how they successfully trained up their five children with love, humor, the rod, and a King James Bible.

Item #4910-75 $24.95

Child Training 101 |

If you want to introduce child-training principles to a friend, this is the one DVD to give them. It takes the viewer back to the basics of child training

Item #2007-75 $12.95

The Movers & Shakers |

Michael encourages parents to train their children to be tomorrow's movers and shakers. Teach them to become leaders, entrepreneurs, statesmen -- the framers of tomorrow.

Item #6113-75 $12.95

Marriage God's Way |

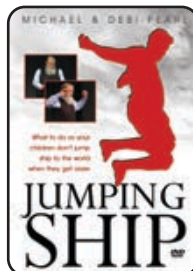

Husbands, learn how to sanctify your wife and cleanse her of spots, wrinkles, and blemishes.

Wives, learn the freedom of honoring and ministering to your man.

Item #4140-75 $19.95

Jumping Ship |

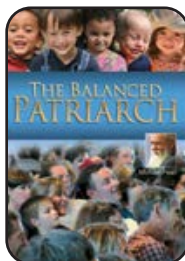

There is a troubling trend showing up among some of the "homeschool crowd." Their children are discontent and rebellious, jumping ship as soon as they think they can survive without the family

Item #4940-75 $12.95

The Balanced Patriarch |

When do children cease to be under parental authority? Michael Pearl goes to the Bible and tells you what God has to say.
